

About the Institute

The Institute of Pulmocare & Research was born in 2000 AD with a motto of Research, Education and Patient care. With increasing urbanization, pollution, and other factors, the respiratory problems are on a rise. The institute is devoted to address them in an organised fashion, with research activities to the best of its capacity.

As a Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (SIRO), the institute has already marked its presence with several research and development activities. We are also deeply engaged in patient care, education and benevolence alongside.

We expect your support to nurture our dream child and earnestly solicit your best wishes with positive criticisms.
